+ Nate Dudoit – Founder & Executive Director – Liahona Youth Empowerment

Nate Dudoit – Founder & Executive Director – Liahona Youth Empowerment – This organization, founded in 2004, promotes and educates special needs, at-risk youth and young adults to a healthy lifestyle, and ultimately to become active participants and role models in society. The organization seeks youth age 8 yrs. and up from all schools both public and private from all communities and economic backgrounds. The goal is to grow the kids in the program's speed, quickness and resistance training program and also offers a performing arts program. This non-profit organization's name, "Liahona" comes from the Book of Mormon and it signifies the sacred compass, so, it's like a GPS to take you in the right direction according to Nate. Basically the program offers guidance for kids to get to and keep them on the right path. The program is designed to have the kids leave the program as better people. Join Nate on Monday at the Honolulu Quarterback Club luncheon.
